President Bush asked Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle to limit 9/11 Congressional Investigations !

WASHINGTON, D.C.— January 29, 2002, Congressional and White House sources told CNN that "President Bush personally asked Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle Tuesday to limit the Congressional investigation into the events of September." The January 29 call from the president was followed by "a rare call to Daschle from Vice President Dick Cheney last Friday to make the same request," CNN reported in the same story.

"The vice president expressed the concern that a review of what happened on September 11 would take resources and personnel away from the effort in the war on terrorism," Daschle told reporters January 29, 2002. Though Daschle stated at the time that he did not agree to limit the scope of the investigation.

WE now have a perspective on these outrageous requests by Bush and Cheney:

The Kean-Hamilton (9/11) Commission, convened over 400 days after the events of 9/11, produced no persons responsible for the tragic 9/11 attacks.

Whitewash As Public Service

Benjamin DeMott referred to the 9/11 Commission as the 'Whitewash Commission' in his article "Whitewash as Public service" (Harpers magazine, October 2004). The 9/11 Commission promised that it's long-awaited report would provide answers to America's questions regarding the tragic events of that fateful day. "The promise was not kept," DeMott observed. "The plain, sad reality...is that the 9/11 Commission Report, despite the vast quantity of labor behind it, is a cheat and a fraud. It stands as a series of evasive maneuvers that infantilize the audience, transform candor into iniquity and conceal realities that demand immediate inspection and confrontation.

"125 million Americans believe 9/11 Commission ignored important evidence

A May, 2006 Zogby Poll revealed that more than 42 percent of Americans believe that "the U.S. government and its 9/11 Commission concealed or refused to investigate critical evidence that contradicts their official explanation September

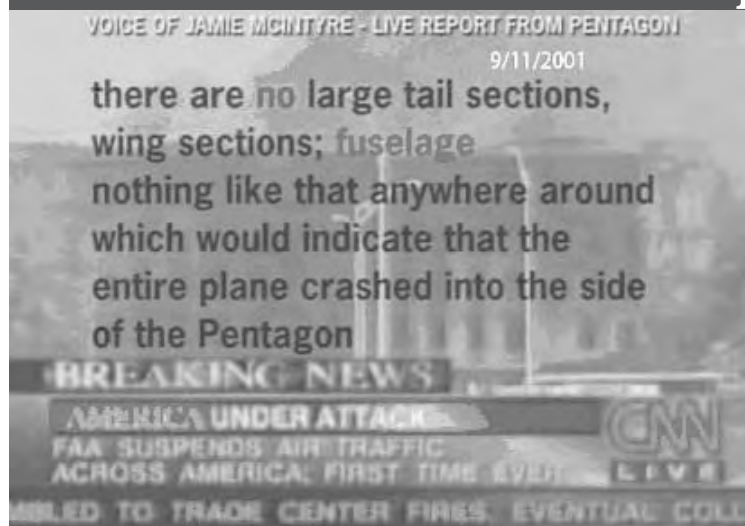

Sen. Majority Leader Tom Daschle (D-SD) was asked by President Bush and vice-President Cheney to limit scope of 9/11 investigation

11th attacks." Based upon the 2006 U.S. Census, there were 299 million Americans

Forty-two percent of 299 million equals 125 million Americans who believe 9/11 Commission Report is part of a U.S. government cover up of 9/11.

We the People - We the Media Tribune Gazette

Editorial

This special edition has a number of objectives:

First, it mirrors the book "A Real 9/11 Commission Will Help Free America Now!" ISBN 09760408-24, April 2007. It also mirrors the new web site www.WethePeopleWetheMedia.com

It is intended to supply an overview of the book information in a 'newspaper' type format for you the reader and to provide a vehicle for "We the People" to "Be the Media".

Second, it suggests that you the reader consider the themes of

- 1) Are we under attack;
- 2) there is a New Iron Curtain around the U.S.A., a Media Iron Curtain;
- 3) to provide Evidence for you to consider the question:
Are they Criminals?
- 4) Is there an imperative, a need, to "Free America Now!" ?

If we have succeeded, you will see information, as in the book and on our new web site, all in one place, that we expect you will be troubled by and ask 'why haven't I seen these issues in the mainstream media?'

To help you review and consideration of the Evidence, news and information provided, we have created "Render Your Decision" Forms for a Real 9/11 commission and a Real Citizens' Commission to Investigate Possible Crimes by Bush and Cheney. These forms are on page 11.

As these "Special edition" was being prepared

On March 4, 2008, the citizens of BRATTLEBORO, Vt. approved measures calling for the indictment of Bush and Cheney. Both are accused of violating the Constitution.

And in MARLBORO, Vt. In a non-binding floor vote, residents of the southern Vermont town of 978 people approved an article that calls for Bush and Cheney to be arrested for crimes against the Constitution.

Are we under attack? Is there a need to "Free America Now!"

The evidence here and other resources are available for you to consider these issues.

Free America Now! Objectives:

DRAFT! Rep. Rangel wants it!

Will you bet your life, or you sons or daughters, that there will not be a draft?

Will you trust a negligent Congress who refuses to end an illegal, immoral war, to deny Bush – or some other war hawk politician - a draft when he asks for it?

Rep. Rangel - Provide fodder for more politicians' lies and wars!

Americans would have to sign up for a new military draft after turning 18 if the incoming chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee has his way. Rep. Charles Rangel, D-N.Y., said Sunday he sees his idea as a way to deter politicians from launching wars and to bolster U.S. troop levels insufficient to cover potential future action in Iran, North Korea and Iraq."

"Rep. Rangel Will Seek to Reinstate Draft" Washingtonpost.com, 19 Nov 2006

Editorial note: To 'deter' but not before engaging in more 'illegal wars' in Iran and North Korea? What a jerk?

Will you bet your lives on this idiot!

Global Warming or Global Domination by Bush Cheney and their fascist PNAC supporters, Which is the most immediate threat to Americans?

If you answered global warming, remember that Mr. Gore has chosen not to challenge Bush on any of his crimes, exactly as our negligent Congress. His work on global warming may help him satisfy his conscience for his failures as a leader, it does not help America.

The answer is Global domination by Bush and Cheney.

Without their removal, we face more criminal acts against Americans, torture, denial of civil rights, including the right to protest his illegal Iraq war, continued threats of more illegal actions and the continued assault on our judiciary!

And none has shown less concern either for his fellow citizens or the environmental hazards they may have to deal with then Bush: Remember Katrina? See also "Bush told EPA to lie about NYC Ground Zero air quality".

Ex-NYC Mayor Guliani:

Did Guliani raise any protest as the NYC Ground Zero workers were negligently exposed to the toxic dust of the 'demolished' NYC World Trade Towers?

"For more than three months, structural steel from the World Trade Center has been and continues to be cut up and sold for scrap. Crucial evidence that could answer many questions about high-rise building design practices and performance under fire conditions is on the slow boat to China," Manning said, "perhaps never to be seen again in America until you buy your next car." **

Three months after 9/11, all the materials from ground zero were shipped to the Far East.

Clearly, criminal negligence and tampering with evidence from a major crime site.

Did Guliani raise any complaints and or demand these materials not be removed?

Vermont towns approve Bush – and Cheney - “indictment”

In Brattleboro, Vermont, Voters there approved measures calling for the indictment of Bush and Cheney and accused both of violating the Constitution.

March 4, 2008 The measures carry no legal weight and are more symbolic than anything. They call on police to arrest Bush and Cheney if they ever visit Brattleboro or nearby Marlboro.

In Brattleboro, the vote was 2,012 to 1,795. In Marlboro, which held a town meeting on the issue, it was 43-25 with three abstentions.

“Voters interviewed after casting ballots in Brattleboro said they saw the article as an opportunity to express their frustration over the war in Iraq and Bush’s tenure in general.”

AP says “The White House press office isn’t commenting, but the Republican National Committee denounced the indictment effort.”

Senate candidate calls for Bush’s arrest

By Laura Dolce ldolce@seacoastonline.com February 26, 2008

KENNEBUNKPORT — Calling President George Bush “the worst president in the history of the United States,” Independent U.S. Senate candidate Laurie Dobson stood on the steps of Town Hall Tuesday and called upon the town to indict Bush and Vice President Dick Cheney as war criminals.

Saying that both had “made killing fields of many countries,” Dobson urged town leaders to issue a warrant for their arrests.

“There is compelling, undeniable, irrefutable evidence that crimes are going on,” she said.

Dobson filed a copy of her indictment with Town Manager Larry Mead. Flanked by campaign manager Bruce Marshall and human rights lawyer Harold Burbank, Dobson said she will do what she can to gathering petitions, to see that the issue makes it on to the town warrant in June.

The central focus of Dobson’s campaign has been calling for an end to the war in Iraq and the impeachment of both Bush and Cheney. If impeachment doesn’t happen, though, she wants both to be indicted as war criminals and for “crimes against our Constitution.”

As for the indictment, Dobson said she was following in the footsteps of Brattleboro, Vt., who adopted an indictment resolution in that town.

Things weren’t looking quite as simple in Kennebunkport.

Further, though Dobson called upon the police to arrest both Bush and Cheney should they come to town, that doesn’t appear likely either.

www.seacoastonline.com/apps/pbcs.dll/article?AID=/20080226/NEWS/80226036/-1/NEWS19

Text of Laurie Dobson’s call for indictment:

“Shall the Kennebunkport Board of Selectmen instruct the Town Attorney to draft indictments against President Bush and Vice President Cheney for crimes against our Constitution, and publish said indictments for consideration by other authorities, and shall it be the law of the Town of Kennebunkport that the Kennebunkport Police, pursuant to the above-mentioned indictments, arrest and detain George W. Bush and Richard Cheney in Kennebunkport if they are not duly impeached, and prosecute or extradite them to other authorities that may reasonably content to prosecute them.”

U.S. Military Wanted to Provoke War With Cuba

Book: U.S. Military Drafted Plans to Terrorize U.S. Cities to Provoke War With Cuba By David Ruppe

N E W Y O R K, May 1, 2001 - In the early 1960s, America’s top military leaders reportedly drafted plans to kill innocent people and commit acts of terrorism in U.S. cities to create public support for a warnagainst Cuba.

Code named Operation Northwoods, the plans reportedly included the possible assassination of Cuban émigrés, sinking boats of Cuban refugees on the high seas, hijacking planes, blowing up a U.S. ship, and even orchestrating violent terrorism in U.S. cities.

The plans were developed as ways to trick the American public and the international community into supporting a war to oust Cuba’s then new leader, communist Fidel Castro.

America’s top military brass even contemplated causing U.S. military casualties, writing: “We could blow up a U.S. ship in Guantanamo Bay and blame Cuba,” and, “casualty lists in U.S. newspapers would cause a helpfull wave of national indignation.”

Details of the plans are described in Body of Secrets (Doubleday), a new

In Marlboro, Bush-Cheney indictment passes in non-binding floor vote

MARLBORO, Vt. beat Brattleboro to the punch in calling for the indictment of President Bush and Vice President Cheney.

In a non-binding floor vote, residents of the southern Vermont town of 978 people approved an article that calls for Bush and Cheney to be arrested for crimes against the Constitution.

The vote was 43 for, 25 against and three abstentions.

The article read: “Shall the Select board instruct the Town Attorney to draft indictments against President Bush and Vice President Cheney for crimes against our Constitution, and publish said indictments for consideration by other authorities and shall it be the law of the town of Marlboro that law enforcement agencies hired by the Town of Marlboro, pursuant to the above-mentioned indictments, arrest and detain George Bush and Richard Cheney in Marlboro if they are not duly impeached, and prosecute or extradite them to other authorities that may reasonably contend to prosecute them?”

Breaking: Sandra Day O’Connor rips into GOP and warns of the “beginnings” of dictatorship

I, said O’Connor, am against judicial reforms driven by nakedly partisan reasoning. Pointing to the experiences of developing countries and formerly Communist countries, where interference with an independent judiciary has allowed dictatorship to flourish, O’Connor said we must be ever vigilant against those who would strong-arm the judiciary into adopting their preferred policies. It takes a lot of degeneration before a country falls into dictatorship she said, but we should avoid these ends by avoiding these beginnings.

Audience Gasps As Judge Likens Election of Bush to Rise of Il Duce and Hitler

A prominent federal judge has told a conference of liberal lawyers that Dictator Bush’s rise to power was similar to the accession of dictators such as Mussolini and Hitler. “In a way that occurred before but is rare in the United States... somebody came to power as a result of the illegitimate acts of a legitimate institution that had the right to put somebody in power.

That is what the Supreme Court did in Bush versus Gore. It put somebody in power,” said Guido Calabresi, a judge on the 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals, which sits in Manhattan. “The reason I emphasize that is because that is exactly what happened when Mussolini was put in by the king of Italy,” Judge Calabresi continued, as the allusion drew audible gasps from some in the luncheon crowd Saturday at the annual convention of the American Constitution Society.

Bush could seize absolute control of U.S. government

President George W. Bush has signed executive orders giving him sole authority to impose martial law, suspend habeas corpus and ignore the Posse Comitatus Act that prohibits deployment of U.S. troops on American streets. This would give him absolute dictatorial power over the government with no checks and balances.

book by investigative reporter James Bamford about the history of America’s largest spy agency, the National Security Agency. However, the plans were not connected to the agency, he notes.

The plans had the written approval of all of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and were presented to President Kennedy’s defense secretary, Robert McNamara, in March 1962. But they apparently were rejected by the civilian leadership and have gone undisclosed for nearly 40 years.

“These were Joint Chiefs of Staff documents. The reason these were held secret for so long is the Joint Chiefs never wanted to give these up because they were so embarrassing,” Bamford told ABCNEWS.com. “The whole point of a democracy is to have leaders responding to the public will, and here this is the complete reverse, the military trying to trick the American people into a war that they want but that nobody else wants.”

Gunning for War

The documents show “the Joint Chiefs of Staff drew up and approved plans for what may be the most corrupt plan ever created by the U.S. government,” writes Bamford.

The Bombshell !! Bush asks Daschle to limit 9-11 investigations. WAKE UP CALL!!

Amid disturbing reports around 9-11, Bush and Cheney tell Senate Don't go there: Bush Asks Daschle to Limit Sept. 11 Probes [Daschle is perplexed by notion of not looking into 9-11]

Date: Wednesday, January 30 @ 10:09:24 EST

WASHINGTON (CNN) -- President Bush personally asked Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle Tuesday to limit the congressional investigation into the events of September 11, congressional and White House sources told CNN.

The request was made at a private meeting with congressional leaders Tuesday morning. Sources said Bush initiated the conversation. He asked that only the House and Senate intelligence committees look into the potential breakdowns among federal agencies that could have allowed the terrorist attacks to occur, rather than a broader inquiry that some lawmakers have proposed, the sources said.

Bush positions himself to have control of U.S. and Bush Changes Continuity Plan

Thursday, May 10, 2007: President Bush issued a formal national security directive yesterday ordering agencies to prepare contingency plans for a surprise, "decapitating" attack on the federal government, and assigned Tuesday's discussion followed a rare call to Daschle from Vice-President Dick Cheney last Friday to make the same request.

"The vice president expressed the concern that a review of what happened on September 11 would take resources and personnel away from the effort in the war on terrorism," Daschle told reporters.

But, Daschle said, he has not agreed to limit the investigation. "I acknowledged that concern, and it is for that reason that the Intelligence Committee is going to begin this effort, trying to limit the scope and the overall review of what happened," said Daschle, D-South Dakota.

"But clearly, I think the American people are entitled to know what happened and why," he said.

responsibility for coordinating such plans to the White House.

Norman J. Ornstein, a scholar at the American Enterprise Institute and an adviser to an independent Continuity of Government Commission, said the order "is a more explicit embrace of what has been since 9/11 an implicit but fairly clear set of assumptions."

He added, "My frustration is that those assumptions have not gripped the Congress in the same way."

Does this attack on "We the People" include an assault on our media? Have they erected a New Iron Curtain around the U.S.A.? A Media Iron Curtain - to control our media?

Congress Can No Longer Ignore Corporate Control Of The Media

Rep. Bernie Sanders (I-VT) writes, "One of our best-kept secrets is the degree to which a handful of huge corporations control the flow of information in the US. Whether it is TV, radio, newspapers, magazines, books or the Internet, a few giant conglomerates are determining what we see, hear and read. And the situation is likely to become much worse as a result of radical deregulation efforts by the Bush administration and some horrendous court decisions... Without exception, every major [TV] network is owned by a huge conglomerate that has enormous conflicts of interest... Corporate radio is just plain overt in its right-wing bias... There are dozens of right-wing talk show programs. Rush Limbaugh, G. Gordon Liddy, Bob Grant, Sean Hannity, Alan Keyes, Armstrong Williams, Howie Carr, Oliver North, Michael Savage, Michael Reagan, Pat Robertson, Laura Schlessinger - these are only a few of the voices that day after day pound a right-wing drumbeat into the heartland of this country."

Not just control Bernie, manipulate and protects lies like the truth about 9/11 behind "A New Iron Curtain!"

Beginning in the 1950s, more than 800 news and public information organizations and individuals carried out assignments for the CIA, according to The New York Times.

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 21 (UPI) -- In the Reagan Era, it was known as public diplomacy. The Bush administration calls it strategic influence. What both terms describe is the U.S. government's ability to influence mass perceptions around the world and, when necessary, at home.

If you don't think it's been going on for years and continues to this very moment, well, then, it's working.

As the Iraq war began, we did get a peak behind the curtain. Word leaked out that a new Pentagon office of strategic influence was gearing up to sway leaders and public sentiment by disseminating sometimes false stories. Facing censure, Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld publicly denounced and disbanded it. A few months later, however, he quietly funded a private consultant to develop another version. The apparent goal was to go beyond traditional information warfare with a new "perception management" campaign designed to "win the war of ideas" - in this case, against those classified as a terrorists.

It's actually nothing new. Beginning in the 1950s, more than 800 news and public information organizations and individuals carried out assignments for the CIA, according to The New York Times. By the mid-'80s, CIA Director Bill Casey had taken the practice to the next level: an organized, covert public diplomacy apparatus designed to sell a new product -- Central America -- while stoking fear of communism, the Sandinistas, Gadhafi and others.

9/11, Iraq, threats against Iran: The Disease or Symptoms of the Disease?

Introducing the 'Project for the New American Century' (PNAC)

Is there an identifiable motivation for the tragic deaths of 3000 people on 9/11? Is there an identifiable motivation for Bush and Cheney to have intentionally lied about the presence of Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD) in Iraq and start the Iraq War?

Outside the USA and except for an aware group of US citizens, the suggestion by Bush and Cheney that actions should be taken against Iran is astounding. Few would disagree that the events of 9/11 and the Iraq War are tragic.

Are these events: 9/11, Iraq, threats against Iran the disease or are they symptoms of the disease?

They are the tragic symptoms of the disease.

The disease, the 'cancerous tumor' infecting a group in America does have identifiable symptoms: the creation of Empire, U.S.A., without the consent of American citizens, and the right to take their infections to any country with resources that they desire, whether invited or not - I.e. The oil reserves in Iraq.

In addition, other symptoms of those carrying this disease includes denying wherever possible individual civil rights and of course, they consider it without question that they have right to torture their 'prisoners', anyone foolish enough to recognize the 'fascist' type behavior of those infected.

The disease, the 'cancerous tumor' whose symptoms include murder, lies, treason and a complete contempt for the rule of law, including the U.S. Constitution, is the "Project for the New American Century" (PNAC). Bush, Cheney and the supporters of the PNAC doctrine see this as their road-map for a New World Order (NWO)!

Is the Project for the New American Century (PNAC) a household word? How many U.S. citizens have seen it reported in the New York Times or the Washington Post?

Is PNAC hidden behind the New Iron Curtain? You bet!

Would the PNAC pre-emptive strike concept used for the Iraq war have gotten very far if the American people had the opportunity to read mainstream media articles about PNAC? If the American people knew to demand Congress do their job, defend and protect the U.S. Constitution and stop cowering before Bush, Cheney and their PNAC tyrants?

"[T]he National Security Strategy - promulgated by the Bush administration in September 2002 - now included attacking possible future competitors first, assuming regional hegemony by force of arms, controlling energy resources around the globe, maintaining a permanent-war strategy, etc.

It's all talked about openly by the neo-conservatives of the Project for the New American Century (PNAC) - who now are in charge of America's military and foreign policy - and published as official U.S. doctrine in the National Security Strategy of the United States of America.

But, in order to unleash their foreign/military campaigns without taking all sorts of flak from the traditional wing of the conservative GOP - which was more isolationist, more opposed to expanding the role of the federal government, more opposed to military adventurism abroad - they needed a context that would permit them free rein. The events of 9/11 rode to their rescue. (In one of their major reports, written in 2000, they noted that 'the process of transformation, even if it brings revolutionary change, is likely to be a long one, absent some catastrophic and catalyzing event - like a new Pearl Harbor'.)"

They have made "We the People" Torturers!

Rogue Regime Rides Roughshod over Human Rights The Military Commissions Bill (S. 3930):

re-establishes President Bush's military tribunals, which were rejected by the Supreme Court as unconstitutional, legalizes U.S. war crimes committed before December 30, 2005, disallows any person harmed by the U.S., in violation of the Geneva Conventions, from filing a claim in U.S. court, strips legal residents of the U.S. of their right to challenge their detention in court if they're accused of being "enemy combatants," abolishes the right of Guantanamo detainees to challenge their detention, which in effect pre-judges all of them as guilty, approves the "CIA program" that allows water-boarding and other forms of torture, and names any individual, including citizens, as an "unlawful enemy combatant" if they provide "material support" to those engaged in hostilities against the U.S.

"Of one thing we may be sure. The future will never have to ask, with misgiving, what could the Nazis have said in their favor. History will know that whatever could be said, they were allowed to say. They have been given the kind of a trial, which they, in the days of their pomp and power, never gave to any man.

NEWS ADVISORY September 29, 2006

Veterans For Peace Insists that Congress Reject Any Effort to Weaken the War Crimes Act

On Monday, September 25th, spurred by news reports that the Bush administration was proposing legislation to Congress to weaken the 1996 War Crimes Act and protect administration officials from prosecution for war crimes, while at the same time prosecuting service members for the same or similar acts; Veterans For Peace National President David Cline, wrote Congress an open letter to express the organization's outrage. In the letter David Cline stated, "It is the highest form of hypocrisy to claim to support our troops while allowing the policy makers and planners of a war of choice, that we believe is illegal, immoral and unjust, to change existing law to protect themselves from prosecution for committing war crimes after ordering the troops to war."

The Veterans organization vehemently insists that Congress: (1) Reject any effort to weaken the 1996 War Crimes Act (USC §2441).

Secret U.S. Endorsement of Severe Interrogations

October 4, 2007

This article is by Scott Shane, David Johnston and James Risen.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 — When the Justice Department publicly declared torture "abhorrent" in a legal opinion in December 2004, the Bush administration appeared to have abandoned its assertion of nearly unlimited presidential authority to order brutal interrogations.

But soon after Alberto R. Gonzales's arrival as attorney general in February 2005, the Justice Department issued another opinion, this one in secret. It was a very different document, according to officials briefed on it, an expansive endorsement of the harshest interrogation techniques ever used by the Central Intelligence Agency.

http://www.nytimes.com/2007/10/04/washington/04interrogate.html?_r=1&hp&oref=slogin

On Thursday, Michael McPhearson, National Executive Director of Veterans for Peace said, "It is disgraceful that the House chose to go along with this President's wishes and pass a bill changing how the U.S. interprets the Geneva Conventions to a lower standard. Instead of leading the world on human rights and treatment of prisoners, the Bush administration is trying to turn back the clock. It opens the door for other nations to do the same, placing our service members at greater risk. I hope the Senate has better judgment."

Editor's note: The Veterans For Peace in this News Advisory also took the patriotic and courageous position:

(2) Based on USC §2441 and Article II of the Constitution, initiate impeachment proceedings against President Bush and Vice-President Cheney for the war crimes they have committed and for the treaties they have violated by the invasion and occupation of Iraq; including, but by no means limited to, waging a war of aggression, crimes against peace, and war crimes.

Are they Guilty? HAVE THEY COMMITTED CRIMINAL ACTS: Treason and Murder?

Is There a Need to 'Free America Now!'

Is allegiance to a Non-US Construction one of their acts of Treason?

Their own Non-U.S. Constitution: Washington Post article "If it wasn't fashionable before, it is now."

"When the Project for a New American Century called for a return to the "Reaganite policy of military strength and moral clarity," to "increase defense spending significantly" they gathered a long list of Washington insiders and power brokers as supporters. While the letter demurred that such views "may not be fashionable today," a number of the signatures belong to close friends and advisors of newly inaugurated President George W. Bush. Vice President Dick Cheney, Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld, and Deputy Secretary of Defense Paul Wolfowitz, as well as the President's brother Governor Jeb Bush, all put their "John Hancock" on the letter, making it crystal clear that if it wasn't fashionable before, it is now. "

"Bush planned Iraq 'regime change' before becoming President"

An important View of PNAC from a European Neighbor!

Tam Dalyell, the Labour MP, father of the House of Commons and one of the leading rebel voices against war with Iraq, said: 'This is garbage from right-wing think-tanks stuffed with chicken-hawks -- men who have never seen the horror of war but are in love with the idea of war. Men like Cheney, who were draft-dodgers in the Vietnam war.

'This is a blueprint for US world domination -- a new world order of their making. These are the thought processes of fantasist Americans who want to control the world. I am appalled that a British Labour Prime Minister should have got into bed with a crew which has this moral standing.' Quote from end of article: "*"

A SECRET blueprint for US global domination reveals that President Bush and his cabinet were planning a premeditated attack on Iraq to secure 'regime change' even before he took power in January 2001.

The blueprint, uncovered by the Sunday Herald, for the creation of a 'global Pax Americana' was drawn up for Dick Cheney (now vice-president), Donald Rumsfeld (defence secretary), Paul Wolfowitz (Rumsfeld's deputy), George W Bush's younger brother Jeb and Lewis Libby (Cheney's chief of staff). The document, entitled Rebuilding America's Defences: Strategies, Forces And Resources For A New Century, was written in September 2000 by the neo-conservative think-tank Project for the New American Century (PNAC).

The plan shows Bush's cabinet intended to take military control of the Gulf region whether or not Saddam Hussein was in power. It says: 'The United States has for decades sought to play a more permanent role in Gulf regional security. While the unresolved conflict with Iraq provides the immediate justification, the need for a substantial American force presence in the Gulf transcends the issue of the regime of Saddam Hussein.' The PNAC document supports a 'blueprint for maintaining global US pre-eminence, precluding the rise of a great power rival, and shaping the international security order in line with American principles and interests'.

This 'American grand strategy' must be advanced for 'as far into the future as possible', the report says. It also calls for the US to 'fight and decisively win multiple, simultaneous major theatre wars' as a 'core mission'.

The report describes American armed forces abroad as 'the cavalry on the new American frontier'. The PNAC blueprint supports an earlier document written by Wolfowitz and Libby that said the US must 'discourage advanced industrial nations from challenging our leadership or even aspiring to a larger regional or global role'

The PNAC report also: - refers to key allies such as the UK as 'the most effective and efficient means of exercising American global leadership'; - describes peace-keeping missions as 'demanding American political leadership rather than that of the United Nations'; - reveals worries in the administration that Europe could rival the USA; - says 'even should Saddam pass from the scene' bases in Saudi Arabia and Kuwait will remain permanently -- despite domestic opposition in the Gulf regimes to the stationing of US troops -- as 'Iran may well prove as large a threat to US interests as Iraq has'; - spotlights China for 'regime change' saying 'it is time to increase the presence of American forces in southeast Asia'. This, it says, may lead to 'American and allied power providing the spur to the process of democratisation in China'; - calls for the creation of 'US Space Forces', to dominate space, and the total control of cyberspace to prevent 'enemies' using the internet against the US; - hints that, despite threatening war against Iraq for developing weapons of mass destruction, the US may consider developing biological weapons -- which the nation has banned -- in decades to come. It says: 'New methods of attack -- electronic, 'non-lethal', biological -- will be more widely available ... combat likely will take place in new dimensions, in space, cyberspace, and perhaps the world of microbes ... advanced forms of biological warfare that can 'target' specific genotypes may transform biological warfare from the realm of terror to a politically useful tool'; - and pinpoints North Korea, Libya, Syria and Iran as dangerous regimes and says their existence justifies the creation of a 'world-wide command-and-control system'.

We were told a 757 hit the Pentagon, that the NYC WTC towers collapsed due to the airplanes that hit them and that Flight 93 crashed in PA.

Is there any Evidence that supports these claims?

These claims were made by the same administration that wanted Daschle to limit 9/11 investigations!

Was – and is - Congress negligent to ignore the Evidence here and to not press for its own investigation?

This “Real 9/11 Commission” and Investigation was created specifically to Offer Your participation. You have the capability to review Evidence and to “Render a Decision”.

NORRISTOWN - More than 40 percent of Americans believe that the 9/11 Commission Report that investigated the Sept. 11, 2001, terrorist attacks is a cover-up, according to a recent poll. And nearly half surveyed said the attacks should be reinvestigated.

In May, a Zogby International poll of adults found that 42 percent of adults polled believe the U.S. government and the 9/11 Commission “concealed or refused to investigate critical evidence” that contradicts the official explanation of the attacks.

Kean-Hamilton express doubts about their 9/11 Commission Findings!

“The Sept. 11 commission was so frustrated with repeated misstatements by the Pentagon and FAA about their response to the 2001 terror attacks that it considered an investigation into possible deception, the panel’s chairmen,” Republican Thomas Kean and Democrat Lee Hamilton say in a new book, “Without Precedent”.

This was the only explosion at the pentagon attributed to a 757 hitting the Pentagon.

There is NO way it would not be in this picture!

The New York City World Trade Center Towers:

Evidence: NYC Towers: Brought down by Demolition Charges!

'Explosion' Vs 'collapse' IS THIS THE "COLLAPSE" OF A BUILDING?

In a natural collapse, debris should fall close to the side of the building. However, in the case of the North Tower, picture right, We see upward explosions of dust and smoke in a symmetrical pattern.

In addition, debris – including multi-ton steel girders – was found 600 feet or two football fields from the side of the towers.

Many TV reports (live Sept. 11) said they (the Towers) appeared to come down just like a controlled demolition.

"The story we have been told that the planes crashing into the towers caused their collapse has been strongly questioned." NYC World Trade Towers: Evidence: 'Cutter Charges' were used!

Crime scene scrubbed

This photo was taken at Ground Zero shortly after the smoke cleared. The most dramatic column pictured here is centered for us. The 60-degree angle cut is indicative of shaped charges placed by demolitions experts. At the low end of the cut column is some hardened molten metal. The temperatures necessary to melt steel are significantly greater than the temperature of burning jet fuel or any other burning material in these buildings. The best "guess" as to what material could have been used in these shaped charges is thermite, which burns at temperatures great enough to melt steel.

Forensic fire investigators would have been able to determine conclusively how these columns were cut. An investigation could have followed many other leads as well and a final, public report would have supported or contradicted the government's "pancake collapse" theory that jet fuel-induced fires weakened upper floors, which collapsed like pancakes on top of one another.

But an investigation was never conducted. Fire investigators were, in fact, prevented from investigating the crime scene and rubble removal began almost immediately by order of Mayor Guiliani.

On January 4, 2004, Fire Engineering magazine Editor-in-Chief Bill Manning called for fire professionals across the nation to demand removal of the rubble be stopped immediately and a thorough investigation of the Twin Towers' collapses get underway. In his "Call to Action," Manning wrote, "Selling the Investigation." He listed all the reasons why and noted the obvious: No one should be allowed to haul evidence away from a crime scene until it has been thoroughly investigated.

Manning's qualified assessment of the government's investigation into the collapse of the Twin Towers is quoted below:

"Fire Engineering has reason to believe the official investigation, blessed by FEMA and run by the American Society of Civil Engineers, is a half-baked farce that may already have been commandeered by political forces whose primary interests, to put it mildly, lie far afield of full disclosure."

Break the Spell!

Fireman Admits Again: 9-11 Inside Job by Victor Thorn

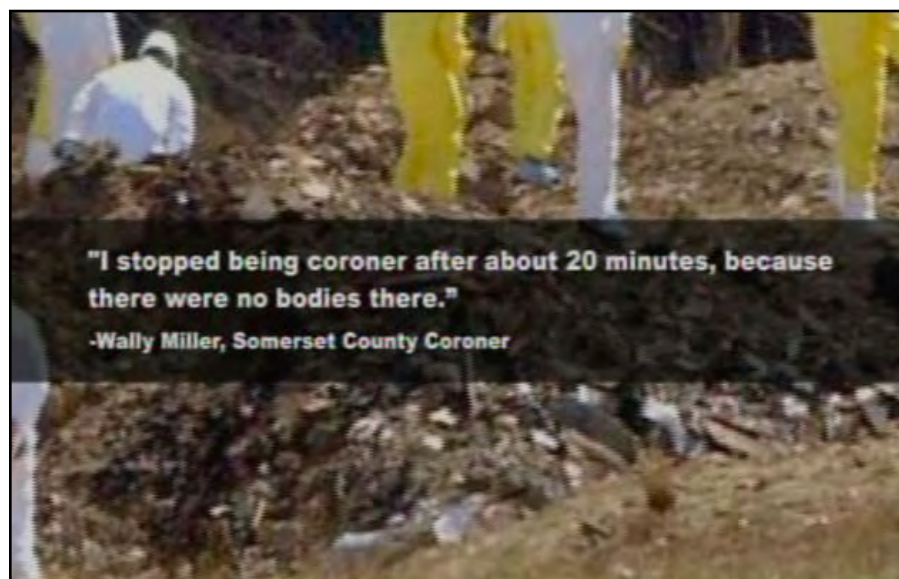

On the morning of September 11, 2005, New York City auxiliary fire lieutenant Paul Isaac, Jr. admitted yet again that 9-11 was an inside job. In fact, here is his exact quote to Lisa Guliani and myself: "I know 9-11 was an inside job, the police know it's an inside job, and the firemen know it too."

Think about the ramifications of this statement. One of New York's own firefighters revealed publicly that 9-11 wasn't the work of Osama bin Laden and al-Qaeda, but instead was planned, coordinated, and executed by elements within our own government. Isaacs also added, after pointing to throngs of police officers standing around us, that, "We all have to be very careful about how we handle it."

Preeminent researcher Jim Marrs (Inside Job: Unmasking the 9/11 Conspiracies) also quotes author Randy Lavello, who wrote the following about Paul Isaac, Jr.: "New York firemen were very upset by what they considered a cover-up in the WTC destruction. Many other firemen knew there were bombs in the buildings,' he said, 'but they are afraid for their jobs to admit it because the higher-ups forbid discussion of this fact.' Isaac, who was stationed at Engine 10 near the WTC in the late 1990s, said the higher-ups included the NYFD's antiterrorism consultant, James Woolsey, a former CIA director. 'There were definitely bombs in those buildings,' Isaac added."

The above information was corroborated by Nico Haupt in the November 1, 2004 edition of 911 Skeptics where he wrote, "[Isaac] explained to me that if the building had 'pancaked' as it's been called, the falling floors would have met great resistance from the steel support columns, which would have sent debris flying outward into the surrounding blocks."

Evidence: Flight 93 missing in action from Pennsylvania!

BBC/UK announces collapse of WTC 7 – Early

Adding further weight to this argument is Greg Szymanski's July 21, 2005 article entitled Former Auxiliary NY Fireman Is 'A One-Man Investigative Team' When It Comes To Finding The Truth About 9/11 where the following quote appears: "When Isaac first watched the towers collapse from a block away, he said they 'strangely came down like a house of cards, in their own footprints' in what he called a perfect demolition job."

Isaac also reiterated what a 9-11 survivor told me during our protest at Ground Zero on September 11, 2005 — that emergency radios were buzzing with information about bombs being detonated inside the World Trade Center towers. Isaac told Szymanski in the above-mentioned article, "I heard some crazy things over my radio in those days, things I can't repeat on the phone."

Also, Isaac directly addressed the gag order placed on firemen and police officers in Szymanski's article:

"It's amazing how many people are afraid to talk for fear of retaliation or losing their jobs," said Isaac, regarding the FBI gag order placed on law enforcement and fire department officials, preventing them from openly talking about any inside knowledge of 9/11.

There is certainly more information of this nature related to Mr. Isaac on the Internet, so here again we are hearing first-hand evidence from individuals who were on the scene (i.e. William Rodriguez) saying that the World Trade Center towers were brought to their knees not by the airliner's impact or the resulting jet fuel fires, but instead by a deliberately executed controlled demolition. Tragically, due to heavy-handed pressure from officials at the city, state, and federal levels, we are still not hearing the entire story.

Last but not least, researcher Vincent Sammartino, who was also in attendance at the WTC 'open grave site' on the afternoon of September 11, 2005, wrote the following on APFN: "I just got back from Ground Zero. People know the truth! Half of the police and firemen were coming up to us and telling us that they know that 911 was an inside job. They were told not to talk about it. But they were supporting what we were doing!!!! I had tears in my eyes."

Fire Engineers Call WTC Probe 'Half-Baked Farce'

A respected professional magazine read by firefighters and engineers is calling the investigation into the collapse of the World Trade Towers a farce and a sham. Exclusive to American Free Press - Jan. 21, 2002 By Christopher Bollyn Fire Engineering magazine, the 125-year old journal of record among America's fire engineers and firefighters, recently blasted the investigation being conducted by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) of the collapsed World Trade Center as a "a half-baked farce."

Fire Engineering's editor, William Manning, issued a "call to action" to America's firefighters and fire engineers in the January issue asking them to contact their representatives in Congress and officials in Washington to demand a blue ribbon panel to thoroughly investigate the collapse of the World Trade Center structures.

Fire Engineering frequently publishes technical studies of major fires and is read in more than 50,000 fire departments and schools of fire engineering across the nation.

Manning challenged the theory that the towers collapsed as a result of the crashed airliners and the subsequent fuel fires, saying, "Respected members of the fire protection engineering community are beginning to raise red flags, and a resonating theory has emerged: The structural damage from the planes and the explosive ignition of jet fuel in themselves were not enough to bring down the towers."

No evidence has been produced to support the theory that the burning jet fuel and secondary fires "attacking the questionably fireproofed lightweight trusses and load-bearing columns directly caused the collapses," Manning wrote, adding that the collapses occurred "in an alarmingly short time."

Because no "real evidence" has been produced, the theory that the twin towers collapsed due to fire "could remain just unexplored theory," Manning said.

Manning visited the site shortly after the collapse and his photographs appeared in the October issue of Fire Engineering. None of the photos show the load-bearing central steel support columns standing or fallen, which raises the question, what caused these columns to disintegrate?

An eyewitness to the collapse told AFP that as he stood two blocks from the World Trade Center he had seen "a number of brief light sources being emitted from inside the building between floors 10 and 15." He saw about six of these brief flashes, accompanied by a "crackling sound" immediately before the tower collapsed.

DESTRUCTION OF EVIDENCE

The steel from the site must be preserved to allow investigators to determine what caused the collapse, Manning said. "The destruction and removal of evidence must stop immediately."

"For more than three months, structural steel from the World Trade Center has been and continues to be cut up and sold for scrap. Crucial evidence that could answer many questions about high-rise building design practices and performance under fire conditions is on the slow boat to China," Manning said, "perhaps never to be seen again in America until you buy your next car."

"Such destruction of evidence," Manning wrote, "shows the astounding ignorance of government officials to the value of a thorough, scientific investigation of the largest fire-induced collapse in world history."

Nowhere in the national standard for fire investigation does one find an exemption allowing the destruction of evidence for buildings over 10 stories tall, Manning said. "Clearly, there are burning questions that need answers. Based on the incident's magnitude alone, a full-throttle, fully-resourced, forensic investigation is imperative. The lessons about the buildings' design and behavior in this extraordinary event must be learned and applied in the real world.

The collapse of the World Trade Center was the first total collapse of a high-rise during a fire in United States history and the largest structural collapse in recorded history. The collapse resulted in the deaths of some 3,000 people, the second largest loss of life on American soil and the largest loss of firefighters ever at one incident, yet congressional hearings or a "blue ribbon" commission looking into the events of Sept. 11 have not been called for, and may never be.

Actor Charlie Sheen: The incessant Flood of the official version of events from day one 'washed away peoples gut instincts' – the NYC Towers were brought down intentionally by explosive devices!

Sheen described his immediate skepticism regarding the official Reason for the collapse of the twin towers and building 7 on the day of 9/11.

"I was up early ... I was watching the news and the north tower was burning.

I saw the south tower hit live, that famous wide shot where it disappears behind the building and then we see the Tremendous fireball."

"There was a feeling, it just didn't look any commercial jetliner I've flown on any time in my life and then when the buildings came Down later on that day

I said to my brother "but did it sorta look Like those buildings came down in a controlled demolition'?"

Sheen said that most people's gut instinct that the buildings had been deliberately imploded, was washed away by the incessant flood of the official version of events from day one.

How was this possible? See page 15 "A New Iron Curtain..."

WTC 'INVESTIGATION'?

In a separate editorial, "WTC Investigation? A Call to Action," by the magazine's technical editor, Prof. Glenn Corbett of John Jay University in New York City, and two other expert fire engineers who specialize in high-rise buildings, the FEMA-led investigation was called "uncoordinated" and "superficial."

"The World Trade Center disaster demands the most comprehensive, detailed investigation possible," the writers said. "No event in our entire fire service history has ever come close to the magnitude of this incident."

Given the magnitude of the disaster "you would think we would have the largest fire investigation in world history," the editorial says. "You would be wrong. Instead, we have a series of unconnected and uncoordinated superficial inquiries. No comprehensive 'Presidential Blue Ribbon Commission.' No top-notch National Transportation Safety Board-like response. Ironically, we will probably gain more detailed information about the destruction of the planes than we will about the destruction of the towers. We are literally treating the steel removed from the site like garbage, not like crucial fire scene evidence."

RECYCLING THE EVIDENCE

On Christmas Day, The New York Times reported that structural engineers have demanded a completely new investigation because the decision to quickly recycle the tower's steel columns, beams and trusses had resulted in the wholesale destruction of critical evidence.

Dr. Frederick W. Mowrer, an associate professor in the fire protection engineering department at the University of Maryland, said the decision had compromised any investigation of the collapses.

"I find the speed with which potentially important evidence has been removed and recycled to be appalling," Mowrer said.

Officials in the New York mayor's office refused to reply to written and oral requests from The New York Times over a three-day period about who actually made the decision to recycle the steel, seriously handicapping the investigation.

The engineers said that the "serious mistake" to recycle the structural steel deprived investigators of the most important direct physical evidence required when trying to piece together what caused the towers to collapse. In the United States there are thousands of similar lightweight, center-core construction high-rise buildings with light-density, sprayed-on fireproofing, according to Manning.

"We have to learn from incidents through investigation to determine what types of codes should be in place and what are the best practices for high-rise construction," Manning told the Daily News. "The World Trade Center is not the only lightweight, core construction high-rise in the U.S. It's a typical method of construction."

ACCOUNTABILITY VACUUM

Engineers have also complained that they have been shackled with bureaucratic restrictions that prevented them from examining the disaster site, interviewing witnesses and requesting crucial information like recorded distress calls to the police and fire departments.

"This is almost the dream team of engineers in the country working on this, and our hands are tied," one engineer who asked not to be identified told the Times. Members of the team of engineers have been threatened with dismissal for speaking to the press.

"FEMA is controlling everything," the anonymous engineer complained.

"Comprehensive disaster investigations mean increased safety," Manning said. "They mean positive change. NASA knows it. The NTSB knows it. Does FEMA know it?"

"No. Fire Engineering has good reason to believe that the 'official investigation' blessed by FEMA and run by the American Society of Civil Engineers is a half-baked farce that may already have been commandeered by political forces whose primary interests, to put it mildly, lie far afield of full disclosure," he wrote.

9/11: Their Motive!

Motive for 'A New Pearl Harbor' aka the Events of September 11, 2001

Is the call for a 'New Pearl Harbor' in the doctrine of the Project for the New American Century (PNAC) that is so conveniently realized in the attacks of September 11, 2001, so obvious that we discount it?

Has the lack of media and public view of this doctrine facilitated a mental lapse of motive for PNAC to initiate the events of 'a New Pearl Harbor', September 11, 2001?

Is it an accident that Rumsfeld., Cheney, Wolfowitz and other high ranking officials in the Bush administration have signed on as PNAC Supporters?

We urge you to carefully consider the articles about PNAC, the Actions of the group they represent, and decide if any group in the world had a greater Motive – or Means – to plan and execute the Tragedy of September 11, 2001.

You are invited to participate in A “Real 9/11 Commission”

This “Real 9/11 Commission” has been established for all of us – “We the People” - to provide for your review All EVIDENCE available, even if Evidence contradicts the ‘official’ story. We the People deserve and demand the truth.

If you had turned on your VCR the morning of 9/11/2001, you would have these pictures!

How is it that the U.S. mainstream media has not printed these pictures?

Consider that there is a New Iron Curtain around the USA,

A media Iron Curtain that is designed to control the information published and thus protect actions being taken that are contrary to the benefit of the American people.

Is the media guilty of criminal negligence by their failure to provide these and other pictures and information to the American people?

Surely, without the ‘New Iron Curtain’, the perpetrators of 9/11 and the other crimes exposed here would have had no chance to deceive the American people.

Is Congress guilty of Criminal Negligence? Did they let Bush get away with his treasonous and criminal request to “limit 9/11 investigations?” They can view the Evidence you are reviewing.

You are invited to “Render your Decision” based upon the EVIDENCE you have seen.

A “9/11 Render Your Decision” form has been provided for you below.

Evidence as shown here and Forms are available for online completion at our web site www.WethePeopleWetheMedia.com And in our book “A Real 9/11 Commission Will Help Free America Now!” see back page, 16.

Bush told the EPA to Lie about Ground Zero air quality!

Sierra Club President, Carl Pope's Field Notes: Why Would They Lie About This? August 24, 2004

Last week I stood on the steps of New York's City Hall for the release of a report the Sierra Club prepared on how the Bush administration mishandled the public health crisis that followed the attack on the World Trade Center. Suzanne Mattei, our New York City Executive, spent the past year digging into public health records, using the Freedom of Information Act and extensive personal interviews with police, fire and rescue personnel, area office workers, and residents to determine what the administration knew about the public health threat created by Ground Zero pollution (including asbestos, glass fibers, toxic benzene, and other vapors), when it knew, and what it did with that knowledge. The results are grim reading.

"There's been a lot of controversy about what should have been done to prevent the attack on the World Trade Center," I explained to a huge assemblage of reporters. "There shouldn't be any controversy about what should have been done after the attack. The government should have told us the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. It should have done everything it could to find out what the health risks were to those exposed to the fumes. It should have done everything it could to enable them to protect themselves. And it should have done everything necessary to help them deal with the health consequences that followed. The Bush administration did absolutely none of these things."

Deaths of NYC Ground Zero exposed First Responders

WTC air doomed ex-cop BY RICH SCHAPIRO DAILY NEWS
STAFF WRITER Wednesday, April 12th, 2006

An autopsy of a retired NYPD detective confirmed yesterday what his family and fellow cops long suspected - that James Zadroga's death was "directly related" to the Ground Zero cleanup.

The stunning findings are believed to mark the first time the death of a cleanup worker has been officially tied to the aftermath of the terror attacks.

"It is felt with a reasonable degree of medical certainty that the cause of death in this case was directly related to the 9/11 incident," Dr. Gerard Breton, a pathologist at the Ocean County, N.J., medical examiner's office wrote in the Feb. 28 autopsy report.

Zadroga died on Jan. 5 of pulmonary disease and respiratory failure - and he had lung-tissue inflammation Breton attributed to "a history of exposure to toxic fumes and dust."

The autopsy report was released yesterday by Michael Palladino, president of the Detectives' Endowment Association, and Zadroga's grieving father, Joseph.

Explosion vs Collapse

Over 70,000 courageous NYC Ground Zero First Responders are now identified as suffering from Ground Zero air quality related illnesses and it is feared more deaths will be attributed to this negligent exposure.

It has been reported that over 2,600 contaminants were found in the air.

Could the "Collapse" of the building have pulverized computers, lights, servers, etc. and created so many air borne particles?

Or, were the NYC Twin Towers "Demolished" by massive explosives? See Photo Page 8

Intentional lies: The Iraq War!

John Kerry KNEW that Bush "misled" us.

"I will not be a president who misleads this country into war." (Statement by John Kerry, July 2004 Democratic National Convention, Boston, MA.)

The U.S. Constitution does NOT give a president the right to do that, nor does it give a member of Congress the right to ignore it. Kerry refused to take action. Resign, John!

You did not uphold YOUR DUTY to the American people. You are guilty of accessory to murder and accessory to high treason !

AFL-CIO Calls for Rapid Return of U.S. Troops "Misinformed American People":

AFL/CIO Resolution of July 27, 2005

"accuses the Bush administration of misinforming the American people about the reasons for going to war and about the reality on the ground since it launched the invasion."

For immediate release: July 27, 2005, Chicago:

In a major change of course, the AFL-CIO Convention delegates voted this afternoon in favor of a resolution calling for a "rapid" return of all U.S. troops from Iraq.

American people feel the war was a mistake and similarly that it has made the U.S. less, not more safe. A majority of Americans also say the administration "intentionally misled" the public in going to war.

Windsor Dems Reprimand Lieberman

by Mike Cummings

Journal Inquirer, February 3, 2006

WINDSOR - Upset by U.S. Sen. Joseph I. Lieberman's unwavering support for the war in Iraq, the Democratic Town Committee has formally expressed its discontent. A resolution reprimanding Lieberman for his war stance passed 34-1 with two abstentions during a meeting Thursday. It is the second time in a month a local Democratic committee has expressed disapproval of Lieberman's position on the war, in which 2,247 American troops have died.

The Manchester Democratic Town Committee overwhelmingly passed a resolution on Jan. 3 criticizing Lieberman and asking him to reconsider his "unconditional support of President Bush" in regard to the war. The resolution reprimands Lieberman for embracing President Bush's "position on the Iraq War, including denying that we wrongfully entered the war, and denying that the war is not accomplishing the objectives set out by President Bush and the absence of any reasonably detailed standards for withdrawal of American troops from Iraq."

Democratic Town Chairman Timothy Fitzgerald said the Bush administration misled the nation into war. "They wanted the war from Day One," Fitzgerald said today, referring to the Bush administration.

"And they made sure that everything was presented in the most ominous way. Joe should have seen through that."

Fitzgerald said Lieberman should have amended his position on the war after it became clear many of the administration's justifications for it, including the presence of weapons of mass destruction, were not true.

Bush to Blair: 'We will lie' Downing Street Memo July 23, 2002

In this official communication between the White House and Downing Street, the Downing Street Memo states: "But the intelligence and facts were being fixed around the policy."

LEAKED MEMO PROVES BUSH LIED ON IRAQ

By Greg Szymanski

An explosive memo sent to Britain's prime minister and others by a former foreign policy aide clearly shows President Bush "doctored" intelligence reports prior to the Iraqi invasion in order to justify war based on weapons of mass destruction.

The potentially damaging memo was leaked to the London press this week, revealing an internal memo sent on July 23, 2002, by Matthew Rycroft, a former defense policy aide. Rycroft addressed his concerns about America's deceptive "rush to war" to Britain's heads of state, including the prime minister, defense secretary, foreign secretary and attorney general. http://www.americanfreepress.net/html/leaked_memo.html

War critics astonished as US hawk admits invasion was illegal !

Oliver Burkeman and Julian Borger in Washington

Thursday November 20, 2003 Guardian

International lawyers and anti-war campaigners reacted with astonishment yesterday after the influential Pentagon hawk Richard Perle conceded that the invasion of Iraq had been illegal.

In a startling break with the official White House and Downing Street lines, Mr Perle told an audience in London: "I think in this case international law stood in the way of doing the right thing."

President George Bush has consistently argued that the war was legal either because of existing UN security council resolutions on Iraq - also the British government's publicly stated view - or as an act of self-defence permitted by international law.

But Mr Perle, a key member of the defence policy board, which advises the US defence secretary, Donald Rumsfeld, said that "international law ... would have required us to leave Saddam Hussein alone", and this would have been morally unacceptable. mechanism consistent with the rules of the UN for dealing with Saddam Hussein".

Mr Perle, who was speaking at an event organised by the Institute of Contemporary Arts in London, had argued loudly for the toppling of the Iraqi dictator since the end of the 1991 Gulf war.

"They're just not interested in international law, are they?" said Linda Hugl, a spokeswoman for the Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament, which launched a high court challenge to the war's legality last year.

"It's only when the law suits them that they want to use it."

Mr Perle's remarks bear little resemblance to official justifications for war, according to Rabinder Singh QC, who represented CND and also participated in Tuesday's event.

Senator Clinton: "I know the war is based upon a lie"

Mother Who Lost Son in Iraq Continues Fight Against War By Marc Santora, NY Times, September 19, 2005

Cindy Sheehan, the mother of an American soldier killed in Iraq, last night brought her campaign to end the war to New York, where she accused Senator Hillary Rodham Clinton of not doing enough to challenge the Bush administration's Iraq policies.

Speaking in front of more than 500 supporters in Fort Greene, Brooklyn, Ms. Sheehan, speaking of Senator Clinton, said, "She knows that the war is a lie but she is waiting for the right time to say it."

Then, as the crowd cheered, she issued a challenge to Senator Clinton, saying, "You say it or you are losing your job."

Cranberg: "Congress must probe whether president lied us into war"

"As polls show that Americans increasingly believe the war in Iraq to have been a mistake, so, too, do they show a growing conviction that the Bush administration lied the country into war."

"When the poll substituted "intentionally exaggerate" for "intentionally misled," 57 percent said in substance that the case for war was deliberately overblown. Each version of the question has been asked three times since 2004, and in each subsequent poll, ever-greater percentages said, in effect, that they had been duped."

The Minneapolis Star Tribune, for one, editorializing May 30 about Iraq, declared, "President Bush and those around him lied. Harsh? Yes. True? Also yes."

An additional tragic aspect of the Iraq War: Privatization

Tens of billions of Americans' dollars go to monthly private contractors like Halliburton and Blackwater who are paid to provide food, equipment and other items need by our soldiers.

However, our soldiers have been given polluted water and continually lack basic equipment for the duty in Iraq.

Why does Congress or 'We the People' tolerate this?

Army Worried by Rising Stress of Return Tours to Iraq

By Thom Shanker April 6, 2008

WASHINGTON — Army leaders are expressing increased alarm about the mental health of soldiers who would be sent back to the front again and again under plans that call for troop numbers to be sustained at high levels in Iraq for this year and beyond.

Among combat troops sent to Iraq for the third or fourth time, more than one in four show signs of anxiety, depression or acute stress, according to an official Army survey of soldiers' mental health.

Bush Intentionally Lied To Justify the War when he stated there were Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD) in Iraq.

Now, there now is a WMD in Iraq. It is a radioactive weapon That WE are responsible for – Depleted Uranium (DU)!

One million of our soldiers have been exposed!

It is estimated that over one million of our soldiers have been exposed to This deadly radioactive Weapon of Mass Destruction.

Exposure to Depleted Uranium carries the risk that the wives of those exposed will give birth to deformed children.

What monsters would do this to their own soldiers, their

What we're doing to our soldiers:

“Iraq Vets Speak of DU Poison” (6/25/2005)

In early September 2003, Army National Guard Spec. Gerard Darren Matthew was sent home from Iraq, stricken by a sudden illness.

One side of Matthew's face would swell up each morning. He had constant migraine headaches, blurred vision, blackouts and a burning sensation whenever he urinated.

Shortly after his return, his wife became pregnant. On June 29, 2004, she gave birth to a baby girl who was missing three fingers and most of her right hand.

They have seen photos of Iraqi babies born with deformities that are eerily similar.

Another guardsman from New York, Herbert Reed, told at the U.N. on May 3, 2005, that he has serious physical debilities and suffers memory loss. No one in the military would give him a straight answer about the origin of the illnesses he suffered after returning from Iraq a couple of years ago - body aches, rashes, boils, joint aches and nerve damage.

Matthew believed that his illness and his daughter's deformity were caused by his exposure to depleted uranium (DU), a component used in tank armor and weapon shells. He asked the Army to test his urine for DU, but never got the test results. Finally Matthew and Reed sought help from the New York Daily News to arrange for independent urine testing for DU. They both were tested positive for depleted uranium (DU).

Army National Guard Spec. Gerard Matthew with his baby born with a deformed right hand.

Matthew was tested and his exposure to Depleted Uranium has been confirmed.

DU is a radioactive, heavy metal denser than lead, which allows it to penetrate armor easily. Additionally, when DU hits a tank's metal armor, the heat of the impact can melt the armor and generate clouds of DU dust which can be inhaled or ingested by soldiers or civilians. The DU particles lodged inside bodies become a nightmare for health hazard.

The U.S. Armed Forces Radiobiology Research Institute has found that DU produced chromosome (genetic) damage and caused delayed reproductive death (J. Inorg. Biochem. 2002, 91: 246-52 and J. Environ. Radioact. 2003, 64: 247-59). In 2002, the United Nations Sub-Commission on the Promotion and Protection of Human Rights declared that DU was a weapon of mass destruction, and its use a breach of international law.

What we're doing to the Iraqis

Nothing depleted about 'depleted uranium' Disturbing photos of children

Iraqi and visiting doctors, and a number of news reports, have reported that birth defects and cancers in Iraqi children have increased five- to 10-fold since the 1991 Gulf War and continue to increase sharply, to over 30-fold in some areas in southern Iraq. Currently, more than 50 percent of Iraqi cancer patients are children under the age of 5, up from 13 percent. Children are especially vulnerable because they tend to play in areas that are heavily polluted by depleted uranium.

The Pentagon has been using radioactive weapons for at least a decade and a half with full complicity of at least three White House administrations and Republican and Democratic congressional legislators. Conservatively, at least 300 tons and 1,700 tons of depleted uranium were used in the Gulf War and the current Iraq War, respectively. This is about 70 grams of depleted uranium per Iraqi citizen, and if inhaled or ingested, it is enough to kill them all.

Thoughts and Suggestions for...

Mayors

Over 400 communities have passed resolutions against the USA Un-Patriot Act. Over one million of our soldiers will be returning with exposure to depleted Uranium. Billions of dollars that are needed by our towns and cities are being wasted on war expenditures.

Isn't it time to end this illegal war and work to restore our cities and their cities? How can we do this? End the reign of terror - by Bush and Cheney - and put Congress on notice: We know they are criminals. YOU remove them or we'll be removing you, after "We the People" do your job, removing Bush and Cheney!

Police

NYC police have lost their lives in the 9/11 tragedy. NYC police officers have died from exposure to Ground Zero toxic air. Thousands of NYC First Responders are ill from this exposure. Bush told the EPA to lie about the air Quality. Bush has asked Daschle, and how many others, to not investigate the events of 9/11. Have Bush requests included pressure and threats? Over 125 million Americans (42% of respondents in national Zogby Poll) say that the government and the 9/11 Commission did not consider evidence that would have contradicted the 'official' story.

Isn't it time that crimes being committed by the Bush administration are dealt with?

Firefighters

NYC fire fighters have lost their lives in the 9/11 tragedy. NYC fire fighters have died from exposure to Ground Zero toxic air. Thousands of NYC First Responders are ill from this exposure. Bush told the EPA to lie about the air Quality.

Our soldiers do not deserve to be put in harms way because a President and Vice-President intentionally lie to start a war. Our soldiers do not deserve to be exposed to a weapon of Mass Destruction (WMD) that comes from the U.S. - the radioactive WMD Depleted uranium. Over one million of our soldiers have been exposed to Depleted Uranium and still counting!

Our soldiers deserve to be given non-contaminated water and to receive the total support they need. Billions of dollars are going to private companies whose main objective is to take money from the American people and our soldiers and are not providing the services they have contracted to provide.

Isn't it time the American people say enough is enough: end this illegal war and bring our soldiers home, safely, and provide the medical and financial care they deserve?

Union Members

Heroes for the courageous and monumental AFL/CIO Resolution of July 27, 2005 "It accuses the Bush administration of misinforming the American people about the reasons for going to war and about the reality on the ground since it launched the invasion."

Does the U.S. Constitution give any elected officials the right to "misinform" us and put any citizens in harms way?

Isn't it time the Unions stopped ignoring the truth about Bush 9/11 lies! Demand the truth. Help 'Free America Now!. Look at the evidence of the crimes committed by Bush and Cheney IN Our Name!

Students

Would you trust our negligent to not give Bush a Draft if he asked for it? See Draft page 3

Wasn't senator Kerry wonderful in Florida? What a coward. He clearly could have prevented the student from being tasered.

And if you were not aware: who said "I will not be a President who lies our country into War?" Right: Senator Kerry, July 2004 at the democratic national presidential convention in Boston. Kerry admits he knows the war is based on lies and admits he knows Bush is guilty of Treason AND DOES NOTHING! Kerry is a criminal and should be so charged.

Military personnel

Our soldiers do not deserve to be put in harms way because a President and Vice-President intentionally lie to start a war. Our soldiers do not deserve to be exposed to a weapon of Mass Destruction (WMD) that comes from the U.S. - the radioactive WMD Depleted uranium. Over one million of our soldiers have been exposed to Depleted Uranium and still counting!

Our soldiers deserve to be given non-contaminated water and to receive the total support they need. Billions of dollars are going to private companies whose main objective is to take money from the American people and our soldiers and are not providing the services they have contracted to provide.

Isn't it time the American people say enough is enough: end this illegal war and bring our soldiers home, safely, and provide the medical and financial care they deserve?

Counter recruiters

Doesn't the failure to provide information about the use of the Weapon of Mass Destruction Depleted Uranium take away from your counter-recruitment activities? How can Americans not be furious that this is an added burden being endured by our soldiers?
